"I learned so much from the performance, and I consider myself very well versed on the subject of African American history"

Mary Warner, Instructor
Nashville State Community College

Feb 24 & 25 7 - 9:30p

2 PERFORMANCES & Q&A

A series of monologues that depict the lives of three African-American women who are escaping from slavery, using their own skills and ingenuity.

Presented by an all female African-American historical performance group, whose programs focus on the dynamics of race and gender in the United States shortly following the beginning of the Civil War.

WRITTEN, DIRECTED AND RESEARCHED BY Dr. Nancy J. Dawson.

$20 per person - $10 students (w/ valid student ID)
