

The Celebration of Cultures festival returns for its 10th year to CENTENNIAL PARK! Presented by Metro Parks and Scarritt-Bennett Center, this FREE event will showcase the diversity and highlight the multi-cultural fabric of Nashville.

Four stages will feature ethnic dance and musical performances, a sampling of exotic foods from around the globe will be offered for a small fee, original art and imported hand-crafted items will be available for purchase, and a children's area will include free interactive music and dance programs, storytelling, nature activities, and arts and crafts projects.

Part of the "Celebrate Nashville" festivities,

Celebration of Cultures provides an opportunity for the community to gather, honor, and explore the diversities and ethnicities that make Nashville so unique and culturally enriched.

This family event will be held on October 7, 2006, from 10 AM until 6 PM. Tango, Salsa, and Big Band dancing will continue from 6 PM until 10 PM. The festival is open to the public with free parking and free admission.
